Saturday afternoon the Peotone school band, with David Hughes directing, will open the festivities and then The Four Range Riders will take the stage. In the evening the band will appear again to be followed by Chick Thomas, G. L. comic, who will entertain with his tales of the war and his comical experiences while in service. Zena Aggen and Jerry Sluiter Married In Lincoln Estates Baptist Church

At a lovely summer wedding preformed in the Calvary Baptist church in Lincoln Estates Saturday evening, August 27, at eight o'clock, Miss Zena Aggen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aggen, became the bride of Mr. Jerry Sluiter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sluiter.

Rev. William N. Kerr officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with large vases of garden flowers.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. William Kerr played a group of love songs and accompanied Donald Hunter when he sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Saviour Like A Shepherd Lead Us."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, trimmed in lace, and with long tapering sleeves. The full skirt ended in a long train and her finger-tip veil was caught by a net cap head piece. She carried a cascade of white roses.

A 350 acre tract southwest of Tinley Park has been purchased for a new northern Illinois state mental hospital, Director Fred Hoehler of the state department of public welfare has announced.

The land was purchased this summer from Fred Wollenberg and from Henry and William Mencke.

Work will begin within two weeks Mr. Hoehler predicted, on plotting buildings and planning utility lines. Actual work on grading and laying of utility lines will start next spring.

The plot on which the hospital will be located is 1/2 mile southwest of the Tinley Park station. It is bounded on the east by Harlem avenue on the south by 183rd street, on the west by 80th avenue and on the northwest by the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railroad tracks.

Planned for use mostly by Cook county residents, the new hospital will relieve overcrowding at the Chicago (Dunning) and Manteno state hospitals.

Hoehler said that the $2,163,000 appropriated by the last session of the legislature for the hospital will be used mostly in grading and utility line construction. It is not planned to do any actual construction of buildings during the current biennium, with the possible exception of beginning work on a central heating and power plant.

Potentially, the hospital may cost 20 million dollars, Hoehler said, with construction stretching over six to eight years. The next session of the legislature will be asked for money for the initial hospital buildings.

Currently there are 13 major state institutions for the mentally ill in Illinois. In addition to Chicago, which has two, and Manteno, they are located at Alton, Anna, East Moline, Elgin, Menard, Jacksonville, Kankakee, Dixon, Lincoln and Peoria.

Died From Injuries In Auto Accident

It is presumed that Henry W. Pasternak, 23, of Chicago, fell asleep at the wheel as he was driving, alone, Wednesday evening, on route 45 near Frankfort.

It is thought he awoke when he was at the E. J. and E. under pass, applied the brakes, which caused his car to skid out of control, and strike the embankment and overturn. A passing motorist found the wreck and notified the police. He was taken by ambulance to Silver Cross hospital where he died.

Coroner Willard Blood said his death was caused by a skull fracture. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pasternak, three sisters, Bernice, Lorraine and Florence, all of Chicago.

Funeral services were held in St. Bruno's Catholic church in Chicago last Saturday morning.

New Lenox Picnic Set For Monday

The Auxiliary members to the Harry E. Anderson Post #545, VFW are in charge of the refreshment stand and report there will be plenty of good eats.

The bride's mother was attired in a black crepe dress and the groom's aunt, Mrs. Nellie Schaaaf of Chicago, wore a gray print dress. Both had corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 150 guests. The bridal table was decorated in green and white, the chosen colors of the bride, and was centered with a three tiered cake and flowers.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Sluiter have gone on a short wedding trip and upon their return will make their home on the James Hunter farm where the groom is engaged in agriculture. The bride was formerly employed at the A. C. Bauch locker plant.

Cook County Health Officer Ignores Pleas of Orland Township Residents

The following petition of 73 residents of Wooded Estates, 159th St., on the county line, was presented to the Cook county board of health by me.

August 16, 1949

We the undersigned of the Town of Orland, in what is known as Wooded Estates, 159th St. Manor, in the vicinity of the farm known as Blue Valley Poultry farm and of late, Moore's Oaks, where in the past three years the buildings have been used for the slaughtering of horses, 20 to 30 a week. The property has no proper sewerage facilities, thereby all waste matter has been dumped in the open, overflowing the joining subdivided lots. This all being low land, thereby polluting the entire community. Breeding place for flies and other insects, a menace to the health of the whole community. The odor is unbearable all over the district. All this has been in violation of the zoning rules, as that also of our health laws of Cook county. We respectfully petition the Board of Health of Cook County without further delay, to put a stop to this menace of the community.

Most of the horses hauled come from Hinsdale, Ill., where the Polio epidemic this summer is at its worse. I have complained to the Zoning Board and the Health office on July 22 and after repeated calls to the office, the place was inspected on the 15th of August by a Health Inspector. There are about 300 people living in and around this subdivision, 17 families live just across the street in Will county and just west on Parker road is a Health camp where 50 little crippled children are in camp all summer.

The whole community is infested by flies. I have contacted the supervisor, Mr. Fred Yunker, who is also a health officer of the township, about this matter and called on him three times in the past month, requesting that this menace to the community be eliminated and the operation be stopped, but nothing has been done and the slaughtering and infestation is still going on.

A hearing was to be held in the Cook County State's Attorney's office August 23, and it was postponed to September 2.

Arlene Borms Named 4-H Champion in Will Co. Gardening

Miss Arlene Borms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Borms of Frankfort and a member of the Frankfort New Lenox 4-H club was declared champion gardener of Will county at the 4-H fair at Peotone last week.

Beside being champion she was awarded a "B" rating on her flower arrangement in the Home beautification section.

Arlene also is a member of the 4-H softball team for Will county, playing second base or pitcher and has received honor when her team was among three chosen to play from six counties at the Sports festival at Urbana recently. But her honor was short lived when she was not allowed to go to Urbana because of the polo restriction which excluded those under 16 attending.

Consequently, four other players substituted and Arlene and the rest of the team were greatly disappointed when their team was last at the festival.

Many New Bowlers; Form More Teams

The New Lenox Women's Bowling League met last Friday at Bright Lanes in New Lenox for the regular fall meeting with the league president, Lorraine Vally, presiding. Officers elected at the spring banquet, are vice president, Frances Tauber; secretary, Gertrude Batson; treasurer, Naomi Butzen; Sergeant at Arms, Anne Wondrasek.

The league has always consisted of six teams, but because of the number of new bowlers, six new teams have been organized. The teams will bowl two shifts every Wednesday night for 33 nights except the night before Thanksgiving Day.

The sponsors of the teams are Bruns Tavern, Bright Lanes, Garrison's Coal and Feed Co., Hutchins Cleaners, Johnson's Dairy, Lewandowski's Bakery, New Lenox Lumber Co., New Lenox State Bank, Ozzies' Corner, Sherwood's, Ed Walsh and Weber Dairy.

The girls decided to hold their annual league tournament at the close of the bowling season. Eleanor Brownlee, Marion Camerol, and Lillian Walsh were appointed to serve on the prize committee to determine the amount of team prize money to be given at the end of the season.

This year each girl will be in there trying for a 200 game or a 500 series. By achieving this goal she will become a member of the 200 club or the 500 club. She will receive a pin as a merit.

Season will open September 7 and captains will be notified whether their teams bowl at seven or nine o'clock.

Local 4-H'ers Win State Fair Prizes

Dogs Apparently Cause Turkey Shortage, G. Garden

Someone is going to go without turkey during the coming holidays if this practice keeps up:

As Mrs. Ray Walsh, who lives on a farm near Green Garden, came out doors to feed her flock of 140 turkeys last Saturday morning she noticed several lifeless, dead carcasses of the turkeys lying about. The sight shocked her and she started to investigate.

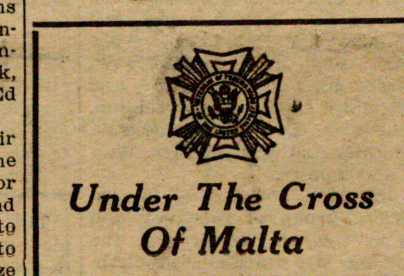

In an adjoining cornfield Mrs. Walsh discovered stray dogs eating some of the turkeys, and came to the conclusion that the dogs had wrecked havoc with her flock.

Later, upon taking inventory she discovered that 40 of her turkeys had met death, which brought the count of her flock to an even hundred.

ONE TINLEY MAN KILLED; ANOTHER CRITICALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

At Press Time Mr. Miller Reported
As Being Still Unconscious Since Friday

REQUEST MADE TO CUT WEEDS

Because of a good healthy crop of rag weeds along streets, fields and in vacant lots in the village of New Lenox, and because these weeds are a menace and source of irritation to hay fever sufferers, Mr. Amos Bruns, health commissioner of the village, is requesting that all citizens cut those weeds.

Mr. Bruns states that in some places the weeds have attained the height of seven feet. By cutting these weeds all during the summer it would not be long before they would be eradicated and a blessing to those who are allergic to its pollen. This is a splendid suggestion for people everywhere.

Rock Island Offices Closed on Sat., Sun.

August 27 was the last Saturday that the freight and passenger office on the Rock Island Lines was open.

Starting this Saturday, September 3, the offices of this railroad, which serves many communities in this area, will remain closed. They have always been closed on Sundays, and from now on these offices will be closed two days in succession.

This was brought about when the railroads of the country started on September 1 to go on a 40 hour work week.

It is a good idea to get your ticket before Saturday, but in case you do not have one of the various ride tickets and have to pay on the train, the price will not be any more.

Norman J. Johnson Takes Marilyn Cagwin, New Lenox, For Bride

The Trinity Lutheran church at New Lenox was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening, August 27 at seven o'clock when the former Marilyn Joyce Cagwin became the bride of Norman Joel Johnson. The pastor, Rev. Leonard Reinke officiated at the single ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland R. Cagwin and Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Johnson all of New Lenox.

The soloist, Miss JoAnn Frick, accompanied by Mrs. A. O. Bruns at the piano, offered the selections "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Cagwin gave his daughter in marriage before an altar banked with baskets of gladioli, pom poms and ferns. She was attired in a white swiss marquisette gown with an illusion neckline, trimmed with chantilly lace and tiny beads. Her long sleeves came to points over the wrists and her bodice was tight fitting. Her fully gathered skirt was covered with a chantilly lace overskirt, and the illusion veil was held in place by a tiara of tiny seed pearls. Her flowers were of white gladioli and stephanotis centered with a natural orchid. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

Miss Ruth Ann Barnes was her maid of honor. Her gown was of orchid vel ray organdy styled with a boat neckline and gathered skirt. Her accessories consisted of a small orchid poke bonnet and orchid mitts.

Miss Rita Okapal and Miss Jane Stickle were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were aqua and they were styled like that of the maid of honor. They all carried white gowns with matching streamers.

Sandra Wedin, cousin of the bride was flower girl, and wore a yellow gown fashioned like that of the maid of honor. She carried a basket of rose petals. Little Robert Mattsey, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a full dress suit and carried a satin pillow bearing the ring.

Stewart Ayres was best man. Groomsmen were Raymond Luther and David Bruns. Rolland and Robert Cagwin, twin brothers of the bride were ushers.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at 8:30 for more than 300 guests at the Spot Banquet room where Miss Nancy Martin and Mrs. Leonard Golle cut and served the four tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Robert Mattsey was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cagwin chose a brown and white crepe print dress with brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a tan print dress with black accessories. They both wore orchid corsages.

When the couple left for their northern wedding trip the new Mrs. Johnson was wearing a turquoise faille dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. After September 6 they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment in the O'Daniel home on Lincoln highway at New Lenox.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from the Joliet Township high school. She is employed at the Argonne National Laboratory in Lemont for the University of Chicago. The groom is employed with Dreis and Krumpf in Mokena.

When their Piper Cub plane crashed in a corn field on the Robert Meer's farm, east of the Scheer cemetery near Frankfort last Friday morning, two Tinley Park people were severely injured, one fatally.

Piloting the plane was Raymond Miller, 40, owner of the Tinley Park Taxi Service, and Richard Littleton, 21, of Chicago, and employed as an electrician at Tinley Park. They had taken off from the Prosperi Airport in Tinley Park.

When the plane crashed, four young men, working in a nearby field, ran to the scene and did some quick rescue work. The young men are, Bob Teutel, 19, Harold Meadows 20, Don Stevens, 22, and Gerri Gehrke, 16, all of Frankfort. While three of them gave first aid, the fourth ran more than a quarter of a mile thru the cornfield to a farm home and called the sheriff's office for an ambulance, and then returned to the scene with a bucket of water.

The boys washed the foreheads of the crash victims and some of their wounds. They spent much time in taking Littleton from the plane because his foot went thru the floor and they did not want to injure him more. They placed both in as much shade as possible in the corn field.

Littleton was removed in the ambulance to Silver Cross hospital where it was discovered his leg was broken in several places, his head injured and also he had internal injuries. He died in the hospital at seven o'clock that evening.

Mr. Miller remained in the corn field for nearly an hour before the second ambulance arrived which took him to Silver Cross hospital also, but in the meantime Deputy Sheriff's William Agnich and DeWitt Taylor and State Police Capt. Wm. Morris and Lt. Gilbert Knater had arrived and administered first aid.

The deputies and state police credit the four youths with fast thinking in the emergency, and that if Mr. Miller survives, it will be largely because of their aid extended.

The four young men, it is reported said they saw the plane circle the hayfield once and then it appeared to have hit an air pocket for it suddenly dropped low, went into a spin and nosed down into the cornfield. The plane is completely wrecked.

Mr. Miller, at time of going to press, still has not regained consciousness.

Funeral services for Richard Littleton were held Monday morning in the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Chicago, with burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

He is survived by his father, John Littleton; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Kanthook and Dorothy; three brothers, Edward, John and Robert.

Littleton was a licensed pilot as well as Mr. Miller.

State of the Railroads
By J. D. Farrington, President Rock Island Lines
The following appeared in the Rock Island magazine for June and we think it is good to pass along.—Ed.
Let's talk about business. This month it's bad business. It's about the business of overloaded trucks breaking down the highways that your tax money, my tax money and the taxes paid by your railroad help to build and maintain. . . None of us is afraid of truck competition, provided it is fair competition. Competition in this business of transportation is healthy. Subsidized competition which is supported by the tax dollar is not healthy. It is not fair.
I wonder how many of you know that on the entire sweep of American railroads, the average investment per mile, exclusive of station facilities, is $80,000. It costs about $5,000 per mile annually to maintain this property. Our investment in right of way is a big thing in our national economy. We own the land. Everything on that land we have bought and paid for. We have improved the property to the point where on it and over it we operate the finest mass transportation system in the world. The American railroads pay on the average of 1,200 taxes per mile to county and state government each year, just like you pay taxes on the real estate you've bought and built a home on.
The Rock Island railroad serves fourteen states and is a taxpayer of more or less degree in each of those. As an example of Rock Island's place in the economy of the territory the railroad serves let us take the State of Iowa.
These figures are in round numbers so that you may remember them easily.
Rock Island operates in Iowa 2,117 miles of line. On the basis of the company's capital investment, total general and retail sales taxes paid to the state in 1948 amounts to $943,000. In addition, we are required to pay state corporation income taxes. This figure, in 1948, was $101,000, making a grand total of $1,044,000.
The total number of our employees in Iowa comes to 3,932. These men and women earn annually $13,392,000. From each of them the state collects various kinds of taxes including income tax from many. I have no way of knowing just how much this sum is, but it is considerable. These employees are people who have homes within the state, some of them have small farms. They take a very active part in community life. They buy goods and services in their respective community just as their railroad does. These people and their railroad are a tremendously important part of Iowa's economy.
A large percent of our employees own automobiles. They pay license fees, gasoline tax, sales tax, use tax and many other taxes, both direct and indirect. A portion of each tax dollar goes into the building and maintenance of state highways—the building and maintenance of the rights of way over which larger and larger trucks, some of them veritable boxcars on rubber tires, pound day and night with heavy, road-smashing, revenue tonnage.
Out of the $1,044,000 total tax bill your railroad pays into the state of Iowa, approximately $141,000 goes into that same road building and maintenance fund. That big annual toll goes toward providing and maintaining a right-of-way for competition.
When storms, blizzards and floods tie up hundreds of miles of railroad main lines, where does the money come from to restore the lines and put them into service again? Out of the earnings of the railroad and certainly not out of any tax fund either local, state or federal.
But when overloaded trucks smash up the highways as they are doing daily—and this is frankly admitted by Thomas H. MacDonald, Commissioner of Public Roads, and R. J. Schmunk, president of the American Automobile Association—who pays the bill to patch up or rebuild the highways? All of us who pay taxes, and that includes your Rock Island.
Mr. Schmunk concurs with Mr. MacDonald that under no circumstances should state legislature authorize more than 18,000 pounds per axle for truck weights, yet virtually every law-making body in the country has been bombarded by the truck lobby with legislation to increase truck weight limitations. If the trucks can legally load more onto their axles, the more capacity will they have to take business away from the railroads.
Heavier loading will mean heavier and more costly highway construction. The taxpayer will have to foot the bill.
I've cited Iowa as an example of your railroad's contribution to the economy. We serve thirteen other states. We make, with some variation, the same contribution in paying over to these states in taxes a part of the money we earn. Just as you do individually. Since our economic future as employees of this railroad depends upon getting a fairer break in this business of competition, it is to our interests to get together and do something about it.

Each of you, as citizens of your community, has something very vital at stake. You vote. You elect the legislative representatives in your communities. You ought to get to know these men. You ought to take every opportunity to tell them your story.
Public opinion is becoming aroused by damage done by over-loaded trucks to highways. Public opinion can be even more aroused when the public becomes fully aware of the grossly unfair, grossly unAmerican practice of taxing a self-supporting industry in order to make it possible for a competitor to sell his commodity at a lower price. That's not competition. That's confiscation.

Polio Precautions

A good health rule for parents to impress upon children in infantile paralysis epidemic areas is to avoid crowds and places where close contact with other persons is likely.

Everything isn't what it appears to be on the surface. Even icebergs, says the World Book Encyclopedia, are deceptive in appearance. Only one-eighth of the huge icy mass protrudes above water level. Seven eighths of each iceberg is submerged in the ocean's depths.

Illinois License Plates

Colors for Illinois' 1950 license plates will be ivy green on an off-white base, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett has announced.

Passenger car plates for 1950 will be aluminum. Truck and miscellaneous plates will be of steel. Plates for dealers and for semi trailers will also be of steel but the colors will be reversed, off-white numbers and letters on an ivy green base.

Mr. Barrett stated that passenger car plates, which on late model cars, are placed closer to the ground and usually on the bumpers, will be made of rust-resistant aluminum.

Truck and trailer plates which are usually placed higher off the ground will be made of steel and will not likely rust.

Use of the two different metals for the 1950 license plates will afford an opportunity for comparative use and durability tests on the basis of which, a choice material for all plates may be made for the 1951 license plates.

Contracts for the production of 1950 plates have been awarded to Hemp and Company, Macomb, Ill.

Motor vehicle registrations for 1949 have now reached an all-time high of 2,340,543, Secretary Barrett said.

THE MONKEY'S VIEWPOINT

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree, Discussing things as they're said to be. Said one to the others: "Now listen, you two, There's a certain rumor that can't be true— That man descended from our noble race.

The very idea! It's a dire disgrace. No monkey ever deserted his wife, Starved her baby, and ruined her life And you've never known a mother monk

To leave her baby with others to bunk, Or pass them on from one to another 'Till they hardly know who is their mother.

And another thing, you will never see A monk build a fence 'round a coconut tree And let the cocoanuts go to waste, Forbidding all other monkeys a taste, Why, if I put a fence around this tree,

Starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monk won't do

Go out at night and get on a stew, Or use a gun, or club or knife To take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss But, brother, he didn't descend from us!"

What Is Justice?

Lesson for September 4, 1949

EVERYBODY is in favor of justice but not everybody knows what justice is. Justice is more fundamental than democracy. If we believe that democracy is the best form of government, it is only because we believe that justice can be better secured in this way than in any other.

Justice is as old as God

Since for at least 3,000 years historians, politicians, philosophers and theologians have been wrangling over the meaning of justice, you won't learn the last word about it merely by studying one Sunday school lesson. But this is the place to remind ourselves that justice as an ideal, Dr. Foreman and democracy as a means of reaching that ideal, were not born yesterday.

Labor Day will recall the great services rendered to democracy by the organized workers of the world, for example, in the push they have given to free and universal education. But democracy is older than the labor movement, is older than July 4, 1776, is older than the Roman empire, in which one of many mottoes was "Let justice be done even if the sky caves in!"

Justice and democracy go back to the ancient Hebrews, the people who wrote the Old Testament. It was written in their laws, preached by their prophets, sung in their Psalms. But of course they did not invent it. They proclaimed it; but justice is older than the human race. The whole Bible and not only the Old Testament teaches that justice is rooted in the nature of God himself. No unjust person can be called godly.

Songs of Justice
OUR Psalms for this week give us some valuable light on what justice is. Some people think that if everybody were rich, that would be justice. Psalm 49 shows how foolish that notion is. It says in almost so many words, "You can't take it with you."

Riches do not spell happiness. Making everybody rich might mean making many people miserable. Money by itself does not cure the ills of life, it may make them worse or even create new ones. Many a family in the "upper brackets" has troubles that would vanish if they had less money.

Psalms 72 and 82 give us more positive suggestions. Psalm 72 sees it as the king's main duty to judge the people with righteousness and justice. The king was the government, in those days; he was the executive and the legislative and the judicial branch of government all rolled into one. In modern terms, the business of government is something more than furnishing police to lock up and punish wrongs after they have been done.

The welfare of the people is the concern of government. When public officials take any other view of their job, they are off the beam. In a democracy, the government is the people, that is to say, ourselves. If things are bad we are to blame for it; if they are going to be any better, we shall have to work for it. Every appeal to a king, in the Old Testament, when translated into terms of a democratic country, means an appeal to the people.

The Little People
JUSTICE always has to be concerned with the little people. It was true in the simple little world of the ancient Hebrews, it is just as true in our global complex world, that the strong will always exploit the weak if there is not a hand to stop them.

God is always for the "poor," the "children of the needy," and he is always against the "oppressor." In ancient Israel the oppressor was usually the big land-owner who treated his slaves with cruelty or underpaid his workers. Nowadays the oppressor is any exploiter, any man or group of men who will use power to squeeze out or crush down the little man.

But justice is positive, not negative, prevention and not cure only. Concern for social justice includes taking care of people laid low by an epidemic or made homeless by fires; but it goes far beyond this. It will mean working for conditions such that no one will be forced to live in unsanitary firetraps.

Government Control May End Some Salvation Army Work

The Salvation Army may have to end its social welfare activities in some areas of the world because of increasing governmental control, according to Commissioner Norman S. Marshall, territorial commander of the 11 north central states.

"As various governments tend to become welfare states, they naturally impinge on social welfare agencies," the commissioner said. "The Army will have to modify certain practices and rules in its social welfare programs. The Army refuses to be a servant of the state and to care only for the physical needs of the people. We feel that religion must express itself in a practical way—in good works."

The commissioner has just returned from a commissioners' conference called by the international head of The Salvation Army, General Albert Orsborn, in London, Eng. Purpose of this two-week session, attended by 35 commissioners from all parts of the world, was to review the spiritual life of the Army with regard to the significance of religion in the world today.

"The Army is absolutely non-political, and refuses to express itself on anything that can be construed as political," Marshall said. "The Army is not concerned with negatives. We're not anti-this or anti-that. We are pro-Christianity."

In discussing this Army policy of declining to take a negative stand on various world issues, Marshall repeated a statement by General Orsborn: "Negative attitudes are often a device for getting good people sidetracked with apparently righteous obsessions."

Marshall pointed out that in England today less than ten per cent of the population attends church regularly. The same thing is true to a great extent in France and Germany, he said.

"The era of mass evangelism is past," the commissioner said. "We feel there must be a commando action, a 'buttonholing' campaign and hand to hand contact. People feel that the individual basis of religion is lacking, and are drawing away from the stereotyped, ritualistic approach which is so common to organized religion."

Marshall warned that the coming years will be critical in Germany because the generation which felt the full impact of Nazi ideology is now coming of age and will be a dominant factor in the shaping of German thought and actions.

PICK YOUR CORN EARLY!

Dry It In Crib, with Behlen All-Steel
Ventilators and Tunnels

New, modern, fast way to dry corn.
No more waiting for corn to dry in fields. Pick early, when mechanical pickers work best. Crib it, and let Behlen Ventilators and Tunnels dry corn faster than you ever dreamed possible.

GOODBYE TO CORN BORERS!

Agricultural colleges and experimental stations recommend picking early, to help control corn borers. You get your corn into cribs to dry, and shred or chop stalks and plow under before ground freezes, to kill the borers.

Behlen Tunnels not only ventilate, but are very handy for shelling. Just run sheller "drag" into tunnel, as at left. Pull out tunnel sections one by one. Corn drops onto conveyor belt. Saves hours of labor!

COME IN NOW!
